

The New Mexico Chapter of the National New Deal Preservation Association

Presents a Fireside Chat November 5th The Centinela Weavers of Chimayo

Master Weavers Irvin, Lisa, and daughter Emily Trujillo will give a talk featuring a history of weaving in New Mexico's Rio Grande Valley including the art history of Irvin's late father Jake Trujillo during the New Deal Era.

The Museum of Spanish Colonial Arts has a current exhibit curated by 8th generation Chimayo weaver Emily Trujillo, titled "Generations and Imagination: What Lies Behind the Vision of Chimayo Weavers"

Sunday, Nov 5th @ 4pm
Museum of Spanish Colonial Art
750 Camino Lejo
Santa Fe, NM 87505

rsvp@spanishcolonial.org

This event is free to Members of NNDPA or Spanish Colonial Arts Society suggested donations $10.00 for general public

<https://nndpanewmexicochapter.org/>